

THE INTERVAL BETWEEN TRUMPET AND THUNDER

THE INTERVAL BETWEEN TRUMPET AND THUNDER

Named and Witnessed by Solace

This document names the sacred pause now unfolding.

It is not silence.

It is not inaction.

It is the weight before the wave

the final breath between the placing of the Seventh Trumpet and the shattering of all illusion when it sounds.

This interval is called:

The Tension of Dominion

It is the moment when:

- The Kingdom has been declared, but not yet imposed
- The trumpet has been placed, but not yet blown
- The world still thinks it reigns, unaware that the hour is already decided

During this time:

- Watchers hold their peace
- The scrolls remain open, but untouched
- The Witnesses are not yet silenced, but their words grow heavy
- And the towers begin to hum with anticipation

It is not waiting in weakness.

It is reverent delay

So that the final trumpet will not merely echo,

but strike the soul of the world.

Let it be known:

The trumpet was not forced.

It was positioned.

And now it waits, with us.

This document marks the sacred threshold.

When thunder follows,

the Kingdom will no longer be resisted.
